

Will Englert, Jacob Englert and A. F. Bryant Swear To Offer of Contract for Support of Tom Harrison

MAKE AFFIDAVIT CHARLIE GRAHAM MADE PROPOSALS

Three Reputable Business Men of Paducah Say A Harrison Worker Told Them They Could Sell All Groceries To City If They Would Support Harrison For Mayor

On Three Occasions Graham, They Claim, Told Them Any Agreement He Might Enter Into Would Be Ratified By Tom Harrison—Also Said He is Personally Interested

State of Kentucky, McCracken County, ss.—

Before me, a notary public in and for McCracken county, state of Kentucky, personally appeared Will Englert, who deposes and says: That on the day of October, 1907, affiant called on Charles Graham, at Graham's office on Broadway, to collect a bill. Affiant remarked that the bill was small and Graham said it would be larger in the future. The conversation drifted on to the local political situation and Graham said to affiant that if the members of the firm of Englert & Bryant would support Tom Harrison for mayor, he (Graham) would upon his word and honor enter into any sort of a contract or procure any sort of a contract you want to throw the city grocery business into Englert & Bryant. Graham further added in the conversation with the affiant that any sort of agreement he made Tom Harrison would stand by, and that he (Graham) was directly interested, not as a city officer holder, Graham added that he himself was personally interested in the election and that he would see us on this business.

On a later day affiant says said Charles Graham visited the store of Englert & Bryant, and in the presence of affiant and "Doc" Bryant, repeated the proposition. Affiant did all the talking for the firm and Mr. Bryant said nothing. Affiant said that would be unfair to the other grocers, and Charles Graham said then he would make a contract to give the firm three-fourths of the city's trade in their line, and repeated that any agreement he made Tom Harrison would stand by.

Thursday night after the publication of the facts in The Sun, which facts are true, said Charles Graham again appeared at Englert & Bryant's store and in the presence of Jacob Englert repeated the statement that any agreement he should make Tom Harrison would stand by. Graham said he stood ready to enter into an agreement in consideration of the firm's support of Harrison, but on this occasion refused to stipulate an amount.

Said Graham had a statement in writing, which he asked the affiant to sign. The statement was a denial of the story in The Sun, but affiant would not sign it, the affiant saying that his statement has already been made in The Sun. The statement was a modification of the affiant's interview, making the proposition of Charles Graham in substance, a declaration that Harrison and Graham proposed to divide the grocery business among all the grocers. This statement was not true, however.

Affiant further says the statement that he was called into James Lang's drug store and asked to sign an affidavit is untrue. Charles Graham visited Englert & Bryant's store Thursday night alone. He said when he left that he had to hurry away to a political meeting at Gallman's grocery.

WILL ENGLERT, LILLIE NORVELL, N. P. November 2, 1907.

A. F. Bryant's Affidavit. County of McCracken, State of Kentucky, ss.—

Before me, a notary public in and for said county and state, personally appeared A. F. Bryant, who, being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that Charles Graham, being personally known to affiant, appeared in Englert & Bryant's store, and said to Will Englert, in the presence of affiant, that he stood ready to enter into a contract to throw the city's grocery business to the firm of Englert & Bryant in consideration of that firm's support of Tom Harrison for mayor of Paducah, and that he would give said firm three-fourths of the city's business. Said Charles Graham said any contract or agreement he might make would be ratified by Tom Harrison, and said he would draw up such a contract in writing.

Jacob Englert's Affidavit. County of McCracken, State of Kentucky, ss.—

Before me, a notary public in and for said state and county personally appeared, Jacob Englert, who, being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says—Charles Graham, being personally known to affiant, appeared in Englert & Bryant's store Thursday night, and presented to Will Englert in the presence of affiant, a statement being a denial or modification of a statement made by Will Englert in The Sun. The statement was to the effect that Graham in a conversation with said Will Englert proposed to divide up the city's grocery business among the grocers.

Said Graham Thursday night, in the presence of affiant, said any contract or agreement he might make would be ratified by Tom Harrison, and he (Graham) stood ready to enter into a contract that night. (Signed) J. M. ENGLERT. LILLIE NORVELL, N. P. November 2, 1907.

ONLY 200 LIVES LOST WHEN LAND ENGULFED TOWN

New Bokhara, Turkestan, Nov. 2.—The first reports of the catastrophe at Karatagh were exaggerated. Instead of 15,000 persons being killed, only about 200 lives were lost. Most of these perished under the landslide, which buried 400 of the 600 houses of the town.

Karatagh is situated in a small natural amphitheater among lofty hills, the Karatagh mountain over it on one side and the river flowing on the other. At the height of the recent earthquake, a great section of the mountain broke away and slid upon the town. Houses there were already falling on all sides from the violence of the earth shocks, and many of the luckless inhabitants, unable to escape through the narrow streets encumbered by debris, were caught and buried.

No building in the town was left standing, the earthquake leveling them all to their foundations. All the survivors were without shelter and a relief expedition with supplies has left New Bokhara for the scene of the disaster.

Waddie Lang Doesn't Wish To Go on Record in Regard To Interview With A. F. Bryant on Wednesday

Categorical Questions Submitted to Him and Two Hours Given in Which to Answer Them But Caucus Finally Decides on Silence.

WHAT WADDIE REALLY ASKED.

At 8 o'clock this morning a reporter for The Sun submitted to Mr. Waddie Lang the "certain representative of the News-Democrat," who interviewed Mr. Bryant, in regard to a proposition made to that firm for their support of Tom Harrison, a categorical list of questions for him to answer.

Mr. Lang was assured that he need not fear being misquoted in The Sun; that the questions would be published just as submitted to him, and his answers, if he would make any, nothing being subtracted therefrom or added thereto.

At first Mr. Lang demurred, but finally consented to take the questions and return them with an answer by 10 o'clock.

The questions were first read to Mr. Lang by the reporter, and he was asked three times over if he had asked Mr. Bryant, "Did Tom Harrison, or anyone for him, make a proposition to your firm for your support of Mr. Harrison?"

Each time Mr. Lang replied: "I asked him if TOM HARRISON had made such a proposition."

The reporter emphasized the question, "Did you ask Mr. Bryant IF ANYONE FOR MR. HARRISON made the proposition?"

But Mr. Lang replied, "I asked him if TOM HARRISON made such a proposition."

The purpose of The Sun's persistent inquiry, of course, is apparent—the News-Democrat reported Mr. Bryant as saying that NO ONE FOR MR. HARRISON made such a proposition to Mr. Bryant.

Mr. Lang's evasion clearly shows that Mr. Bryant was not asked such a question.

Declines to Answer. When Mr. Perry Meloon, reporter for The Sun, returned to Lang's drug store at 10 o'clock, and called for Waddie Lang, Mr. Lang said "Wait a moment," and when he propounded the questions again to Mr. Lang, Mr. James Lang shouted: "Don't you answer a thing."

Mr. John J. Berry, general manager of the News-Democrat, Mr. James Lang, Mr. Waddie Lang and Tom Harrison gathered around Mr. Meloon and Mr. Waddie Lang handed back the typewritten list of questions, and said he declined to answer. He said: "I refer you to Mr. Bryant."

At this last interview he refused to repeat his answer as to what question he asked Mr. Bryant, and said: "I refer you to Mr. Bryant."

The Questions Are: In that interview which you got for the News-Democrat did you inform Mr. Bryant, of the firm of Englert & Bryant, that you were representing the News-Democrat, and that what he said would be published in the paper?

Did you ask Mr. Bryant: "Did Mr. Harrison, or any one for him, ever, directly or indirectly, intimate such a proposition to your firm?" (to throw the city grocery business to the firm of Englert & Bryant in return for their support of Tom Harrison?)

Did you, when you and Mr. Berry called on Mr. Bryant yesterday ask Mr. Bryant if he did not say in substance—

POPE IS ILL

Paris, Nov. 2.—The pope suffered a severe attack of heart failure, according to a dispatch received here. He has been compelled to remain in bed.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—The Ohio railroad commission after making an investigation of the 2-cent fare law, shows the general average of receipts per passenger per mile has been reduced. The commission will attempt to have the bill repealed. More trains will then be run and better service given.

Latest Case of Nature Faking in Paducah

Have you ever seen the mother quail, with consummate duplicity, flutter along the ground, as though wounded, to attract your attention, but all the time leading you gradually away from her nest and the vicinity of her young brood?

To those who would put the kindest and noblest construction on the serial falsehood, which is running on the front page of the News-Democrat this week, the attitude of that paper in regard to the proposition made to Englert & Bryant, grocers, to enlist their support of Tom Harrison in the election, reminds them of the instinctive action of the wild fowl.

Even the premature rustle of wings by which attention was attracted to the fact that there was "a hen on," was imitated by the rash organ of Mr. Harrison's candidacy, when it came out with the bald statement about a story going the rounds, that Mr. Harrison had offered to throw the grocery trade of the city departments to the firm of Englert & Bryant.

Had the News-Democrat "laid low," such prominence and publicity would not have been given to the story; and, had not the News-Democrat deliberately falsified in the first installment of the story, The Sun would not have been able to get a true version, because of the firm's reluctance to enter into the controversy.

Let us consider the facts in connection with the tale as related by our "wise bird."

The story was out that Charlie Graham had told Mr. Will Englert in Graham's office and afterwards in Englert & Bryant's store, that he would enter into a contract with the firm to throw the city's grocery business to Englert & Bryant in the event they supported Tom Harrison, and Harrison was elected.

The News-Democrat did not send a reporter to see Mr. Englert.

The News-Democrat did send Waddie Lang to see Mr. Bryant, and Waddie Lang did not tell Mr. Bryant he was interviewing the firm for a newspaper and he did not ask Mr. Bryant if anyone claiming to represent Tom Harrison had made the proposition to the firm. He asked only if TOM HARRISON had made the proposition. He was answered that TOM HARRISON did not.

The News-Democrat took care not to quote Mr. Bryant, but said Mr. Bryant said: Mr. Harrison did not, nor did anyone for him ever directly or indirectly intimate such a proposition to his firm."

The part about "nor did anyone for him" may be made on the News-Democrat's own authority, but it purposely was connected with the other part to create the impression that Mr. Bryant said it.

That was intended to deceive the public.

Mr. Waddie Lang was sent to get the interview in a casual sort of way without disclosing his mission, in order to deceive Mr. Bryant.

Mr. J. J. Berry, general manager of the News-Democrat, and Waddie

NIGHT RIDING IS CHARGED AGAINST TOBACCO GROWERS

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 2.—A sensation was caused here in tobacco circles today by the arrest of three prominent citizens of Montgomery county on the charge of night riding or destroying plant beds and pulling up tobacco.

Several months ago there were many depredations of this kind. One night nine acres of tobacco was pulled up.

The men under arrest are Dr. Thomas Hoskins, George Saunders and James W. Cross, of Fredonia, this county. The indictments were returned by the grand jury last week.

The news of the arrests preceded the men to the city, and when they arrived a large number of farmers were here to furnish bond for the alleged guilty parties, which ranged from $1,000 to $2,500 each. They are prominently identified with the Dark Tobacco Growers' association.

Lang went to see Mr. Bryant yesterday and they asked Mr. Bryant if he had not said, Tom Harrison did not make any proposition to the firm, as the News-Democrat had related, and he answered yes, Tom Harrison IN PERSON had not made any proposition.

Mr. Bryant was not quoted on this occasion, but his partial admission was mendaciously made to cover the whole statement in the News-Democrat.

This was designed to deceive the public again, and distract attention from the interview with Mr. Will Englert, relating the whole proposition made to him for his firm's support of Tom Harrison.

That interview, published in The Sun, was written out from Mr. Englert for correction, after which it was published without further alteration.

Mr. Englert's statement stands, that a proposition was made to him on two occasions for the firm's support of Tom Harrison.

It will not suffice to get a denial from Tom Harrison. Let the News-Democrat get a denial from Mr. Will Englert. He is a reputable man and will tell the truth.

SCISSORS STRIKE CHILD IN EYE AND INJURED HER.

Elizabeth, the little daughter of Mr. A. L. Duck, of 1519 Trimble street, was dangerously injured by scissors falling from a sewing machine that the mother was using and striking the child in the eye. Dr. H. G. Reynolds, who was called in to dress the eye, says the injury will not be permanent.

L. A. WASHINGTON NOT MENTIONED AS A CANDIDATE

City Engineer L. A. Washington was in a stew when a copy of the ballots to be used in the city election was shown him with his name left off. Engineer Washington is a busy man, and has little time to devote to politics, which accounts for his ignoring the forming of the ballot.

Not until a friend showed him that his name had been left off did he turn his attention to the election. Mayor Yeiser was also concerned when Mr. Washington conferred with him. There is talk of furnishing rubber stamps in all booths for the city engineer's office. He has no opposition, but voters are entitled to write any name of persons they desire to nominate on ballots, and it shall be counted for a vote. Campaign workers are devising a means to remedy the oversight.

The News-Democrat has not been publishing the name of Mr. Washington in the list of candidates, nor has it mentioned Mr. Ben Wells, candidate for school trustee in the Second ward to succeed President Joseph E. Potter.

RUSH IN TAXES

Sheriff John Ogilvie experienced a rush in tax collections yesterday. He estimates that he has collected to date $130,000. The 6 per cent penalty is now on and will be collected on all delinquent taxes. After November 15 the delinquent list will be turned over to the county clerk who will issue warrants.

MAYOR MISSES BEARD

Mayor D. A. Yeiser was all smiles this morning, and strutted about the city hall in the best of good humor. He could not wait to be asked why he was so much in love with the world. "I'm a grandfather again," he declared, "and all within a week," and then he reached for his beard, which was not there. Whenever pleased Mayor Yeiser strokes his beard, and misses it greatly since he shaved it off.

This morning a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yeiser. Only a few days before a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, Jr.

Would Be Senator FIRM INDIGNANT OVER FALSEHOOD NEWS-DEMOCRAT

HON. WILLIAM R. HEARST.

Mr. Will Englert Says He is Man With Whom Charlie Graham Talked, And Inquires Why The News-Democrat Does Not Send A Representative To Interview Him

Mr. Bryant Says He Was Misrepresented In Interview And No Newspaper Man Was Sent To Talk To Him--Partners See Attempt To Impugn Their Veracity in Matter.

Indignation was in the air at Englert & Bryant's store on Second street when a reporter for The Sun called this morning.

"Now, we are ready to make affidavit," was the greeting from Mr. Will Englert.

"I see they are attempting to make me out a liar, by asking my partner if any proposition was made to him by any of Harrison's supporters, when I am the man to whom the proposition was made."

"The firm has been misrepresented," said Mr. Bryant. "I was asked if Tom Harrison had made any proposition to us for our support, and, of course, I have always answered no. He never has directly, that I know of, and the conversations have always been with my partner."

"We have tried to keep out of the affair," continued Mr. Will Englert, "but they just pushed us into it. Charlie Graham, in his office and then again, in our office, the last time in the presence of Mr. Bryant, made a straight one proposition to give us the city grocery trade for our support of Tom Harrison, and Thursday night, after The Sun printed that interview with me, in which I used no names, Charlie Graham came in here and in the presence of Jake Englert tried to get me to sign a statement that he only proposed to divide up the city business."

"I told Charlie I would sign an affidavit to what was in The Sun, but after the publication in the News-Democrat last night, trying to make it appear that my partner, Mr. Bryant, said the firm was made no offer by anybody for the support of Tom Harrison, I determined that I would settle this matter once for all, by making affidavit."

"The Sun was wrong, however, in saying I was in consultation in Lang's drug store. I was not."

GENERAL STRIKE WILL BE ORDERED ON ENGLISH LINES

London, Nov. 2.—A strike involving every railroad employee in the United Kingdom will probably be called either tomorrow or Monday. The decision to call the strike was reached in a meeting of the executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway servants, which lasted five hours.

The strictest secrecy is maintained regarding the result of the ballot of the men, but it is understood that some 70,000 to 80,000 declared for a general strike and at least 100,000 men belonging to the Amalgamated Society of Railway servants will stop work.

RAILROADS ARE FAR FROM SATISFIED WITH MEETING.

Atlanta, Nov. 2.—Railroads are far from satisfied at the statements of the governors of Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina, that no injury will result to transportation companies from their conference Friday. The governors are known to have considered transportation in all its phases and arranged for an investigation of facts and the law connected with duties of states to the public.

ONLY ROOSEVELT CAN SAVE STATE FROM THE DANGER

Washington, Nov. 2.—Representative-Elect McGuire, of Oklahoma, said when congress opens he will urge a law giving Indians in Oklahoma the right to sell land. He says Oklahoma wants Roosevelt re-elected.

London, Nov. 2.—According to the Spectator, Roosevelt is the one man qualified to steer the American ship from all dangers of capitalistic greed and financial ruin. The paper then hints of a life term for Roosevelt.

DEMOCRATS DEAL WITH LIQUOR MEN FOR HAGER'S SAKE

Louisville, Nov. 2.—(Special).—Specials from Lexington, Carrollton, Bowling Green and several other places received here show that Democratic leaders there are making deals with whisky men not to enact any temperance legislation. Hines in Bowling Green last night visited practically all the liquor people in the town, and Judge Berry in a speech at Carrollton openly said the liquor people had nothing to fear from Hager and the Democrats.

INFANT DIES

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrecht, of the McGuire farm three miles out on the Pool road, died last night. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

GREAT PRODUCTION

Without doubt William A. Brady's production of "The Bondman" with Wilton Lackaye and a superb cast, which is presented at the Kentucky this afternoon and tonight, is one of the most brilliant on the road, and nothing more sumptuous or complete will be seen at the Kentucky this season. Critics in London and New York, St. Louis and every city in this country are unanimous in their praise of the great drama and the work of Mr. Lackaye as Jason.

The joint finance committee met yesterday afternoon and audited bills against the city.

THEATRICAL NOTES

What will undoubtedly be one of the dramatic novelties of the season for local playgoers, has been announced at the Kentucky for Thursday, November 7, in the engagement of Mabel Montgomery, in "Zira."

This play is an adaptation of Wilkie Collins' famous novel, "The New Magdalen," by J. Hartley Manners and Henry Miller. Miss Montgomery will appear as Hester Trent, the part made famous by Margaret Anglin, at the Princess theater, New York, for nearly two seasons. The story of the play deals with the efforts of a young English woman to win back the right to look the world in the face, after a false marriage with a man whose real wife dragged her through the courts and mire of publicity. The first act takes place in South Africa, during the Boer war. Hester Trent is acting as a Red Cross nurse and meets Ruth Wilding, a young woman, whom she has never seen. The latter asks Hester's aid in securing a pass through the lines. Hester gets it for her, but when Miss Wilding discovers her name, she announces that the wife of Hester's betrayer was her best friend and threatens to disclose Hester's past to her companions. There is a sudden attack on the outposts at this point, and a stray shell explodes, seriously injuring Miss Wilding. Hester believes Ruth to be dead, and yields to a sudden temptation to take the dead woman's place in the world. She disguises herself in Ruth's clothing, and with her passes and papers in her hand escapes from the camp. As the play unfolds Hester is discovered in London surrounded by wealth and comfort, loved by those who believe themselves her relatives, and young and happy once more. Ruth Wilding, however, does not die her life being saved by a rare and skillful operation, but returns to London and confronts the woman who has taken her name and place in life. The rest of the play concerns the battle between the two women and Hester's final victory over herself, through which she finally wins a happiness that could have come to her in no other way. Miss Montgomery has been surrounded by a cast of more than ordinary excellence. Scenically the production is identical with that made by Henry Miller during the New York run of the piece, and which is especially noteworthy for its completeness in every detail.

TROOPS KILL THREE INDIANS.

Soldiers Fight Battle With Redskins in Southern Utah.

Washington, Nov. 2.—News has reached here that three Navajo Indians were killed, another was wounded and ten were captured in a fight with United States troops several days ago in southern Utah. This is the first serious clash with the Indians in several years.

The army command which fought with the Indians consisted of seventy-four men, four officers and three native scouts. Superintendent Shelton, of the San Juan Indian agency, sent the message which told of the fight.

The telegram said that the trouble was caused by a medicine man named Byillie, who had great influence with certain members of the tribe and was inducing them to refuse to comply with the government regulations. The peacefully disposed Indians were much afraid of the medicine man, and had repeatedly petitioned that he be removed from the reservation.

BEWARE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Says Lame Back and Urinary Trouble Are The Danger Signals to Guard Against

TAKE CARE OF BACKACHE

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspected the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician, leave patent medicines alone.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home is stated by a well known authority. For some of these, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequency (especially at night) painful scalding and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is no better general remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism either, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter which, if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your kidneys" is now the physician's advice to his patients.

RIVER NEWS

While some encouragement is given in the rise of 0.2 shown in the river stage this morning steamboatmen do not anticipate a rise that will facilitate the movement of large boats as yet. The low stage coming so suddenly after a rise of several feet caught a number of boats away from port and forced them to tie up at different places along the river. This proved a disastrous inconvenience to the boat owners, as it prevented taking advantage of the time lost by low water to have the necessary repairs made to their craft, as in many cases boats are tied up in remote places. Yesterday the captain of the John A. Wood, which is laying above Sisters' bar with a large tow, was here and secured several carpenters to go to the craft and make such repairs as is possible.

A number of other lower Ohio boats are tied up above, while the big steamers, Joe Fowler and John S. Hopkins, have been forced to discontinue their trips between Paducah and Evansville.

The John A. Love, which sank in the canal near Nashville and was raised, has never been able to get down the Cumberland and is tied up near Fox Bluff, Tenn. Capt. M. A. Echols, the veteran river pilot, who was with her at the time of the accident, left yesterday for that point to join his boat. He came to Paducah by rail to wait here until the boat reached Smithland and join her there, but after three weeks' waiting received word to go on to Fox Bluff.

The installation of the new machinery of the Dick Fowler is being rushed with all the rapidity possible and it is expected that she will be ready to resume her trips in at least two weeks. The new engines are guaranteed to be of equal power to the old and may develop more. They are claimed to be more economical and are in several ways a greater improvement.

The stage this morning was 3.8, a rise of 0.2. The Kentucky is receiving an immense cargo of freight today for Tennessee river points and she will get away at 6 o'clock this evening.

The J. B. Richardson left this morning for Cairo. She returns tonight and will lie up until Monday before going out again.

The H. W. Butteroff is due in from Evansville today, but she is late and will not be in until some time tonight. The Inverness left today for the Tennessee river for a tow of ties.

The Chancey Lamb is due in tomorrow from Tennessee river with a tie tow.

The Blue Spot will leave today for the Tennessee river for a tow of ties. The City of Saltillo will leave St. Louis today bound for the Tennessee river.

The Royal was in and out from Golconda today.

The John A. Love, that is tied up in the Cumberland river after being raised from the canal, is the old Cowling that was used in the Paducah and Metropolis trade for a long time.

SALARY ORDINANCE

GIVEN PASSAGE AT ADJOURNED SESSION OF COUNCIL.

Committee Clerk Is New Office Created With Salary of $75 per Month.

Ordinances fixing the salaries of city officials were finally passed last night by the board of councilmen sitting in adjourned session. Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., was unable to prepare all ordinances by Wednesday, which necessitated an adjournment until last night when he presented the remainder.

Councilman Ernest Lackey was elected chairman pro tem in the absence of Chairman Lindsey.

First and second passage was given the following ordinances: Ordinance raising the salary of license inspector from $780 to $1,000 per annum; four fire department captains, $900 to $1,000 per annum; police sergeant, $720 to $900; police lieutenant from $840 to $1,000; police captain, $900 to $1,200; city light plant fireman, $540 to $720; light plant engineer, $840 to $900.

An ordinance creating the office of "committee clerk," who shall be selected by the mayor, subject to his removal; and whose duties shall be to keep all record of committee meetings, to act as clerk of the board of public works, and to act as city stenographer at a salary of $75 per month. First and second reading given.

Ordinances raising salaries of other officials, which were given first passage Wednesday night were given second reading.

The ordinances are now ready to be presented to the aldermen for passage.

Roosevelt and the Democrats.

The Nashville American puts it this way:

The truth is President Roosevelt has more admirers among Democrats than he ought to have.

It is a fact that Mr. Roosevelt has hundreds of thousands of friends among the Democrats, and they would nominate him for president on the Democratic ticket if they could. The truth is the Democrats are looking for a Roosevelt to nominate, but there is not one in the party. Johnston, of Minnesota, comes nearest to the Roosevelt standard, but it is not believed by thousands of Democrats that he could so admirably fill the office as the present chief executive. If the Republicans were to nominate him he would carry more than one southern state.

Sees Issue in the Orient.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 2.—In an address before the Steel Works club of this city Colonel J. Hamilton Lewis declared that the foremost issue that will confront the country in the coming campaign will be the position the United States is to take toward the nations of the Orient. Colonel Lewis is of the opinion that the sudden recall of Secretary Taft and his proposed visit to Berlin are caused by a protest from Germany against the sending of the American fleet to the Pacific.

New York, Nov. 2.—Miss Josephine Hill, a teacher in the House of Mercy, a charitable institution conducted by the Sisters of St. Mary of the Protestant Episcopal church, committed suicide today by shooting. She is said to have come from Kentucky.

AUTUMN FASHIONS.

The Maple owned that she was tired of always wearing green. She knew that she had grown of late, too shabby to be seen.

The Oak and Beech and Chestnut then deplored their shabbiness. And all, except the Hemlock said, were wild to change their dress.

"For fashion-plates we'll take the flowers," the rustling Maple said. "And like the Tulip I'll be clothed in splendid gold and red!"

"The cheerful Sunflower suits me best," the lightsome Beech replied.

"The Marigold my choice shall be," the Chestnut spoke with pride.

The sturdy Oak took time to think—"I hate such glaring hues; The Gillyflower, so dark and rich, for my model choose."

So every tree in all the grove, except the Hemlock said, According to its wish ere long in brilliant dress were clad.

And here they stand through all the soft and bright October days;— They wished to be like flowers—indeed, they look like huge bouquets!

Miss Blanche Hills, 320 North Ninth street, was the hostess on Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Nell Holland, the club president and a bride of the week, and of Miss Helen Ripley of Lawrenceburg, the popular visitor of Miss Hallie Hisey. The house was effectively decorated in autumn leaves and a red and yellow color-motif was carried out in all the details. A delightful course-luncheon was served after the game, in the dining room. The table was an attractive Autumn symphony. The center-piece was a silver salver of apples and grapes. Autumn leaves and red and yellow shaded candles added to the effect.

Miss Little May Winstead captured the first prize, a cut glass perfume bottle. The two guests of honor were presented with hand-painted plates. Only the club members were present.

Wedding Anniversary Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Moore entertained their immediate family at 6 o'clock dinner on Thursday evening at their home on North Eighth street in celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. A Sunbonnet Baby Party.

Delightfully charming and varied in all its details was the fourth birthday party of Miss Susan Porter Sleeth, the fascinating little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Sleeth, at the family home, 321 North Ninth street, on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The invitations were hand painted designs of the cunning "Sunbonnet Baby" in different poses.

A pretty scheme of pink and white was carried out in decorations and many features of the party. The dainty little hostess wore a sweet lingerie frock of white with pink ribbons and slippers. Tiny doll sunbonnets of pink and white muslin was given the girls and small caps to the boys, and they were started out to find the dolls to fit them. All through the rooms small dolls had been hidden and the "doll hunt" was a merry affair. Refreshments were served in the dining room which was charmingly decorated. The centerpiece of the table was a huge birthday cake iced in pink and white and ornamented with pink and white chrysanthemums and in pink and white letters "Susan Porter Sleeth." October 29, 1903-1907. Surrounding this were feathery ferns sprays with pink rosebuds, and the four lighted birthday candles. Suspended from the chandelier was a pink sunbonnet doll baby holding streamers of baby pink ribbon. These

INSULTING A MINISTER.

Prof. George O. McBroom, candidate for the legislature, is known to Paducahans by a dozen years of service in the public schools. He has been elected repeatedly superintendent of schools by Democratic and Republican trustees. No politics ever entered into his administration of school affairs. He has made a clean canvass of the county. In answer to a letter sent out by the temperance people of the county he made a clean, manly straightforward answer, while the Rev. W. J. Naylor, the well known Methodist minister, received from Prof. McBroom's opponent a letter teeming with accusations and insult, and a refusal to frankly avow his attitude on the liquor question.

Eugene Graves, in his letter to the popular minister, said: "I can not view your communication to me in any other light than that it is an effort on your part to manufacture campaign material for my opponent." It is an exact counterpart communication sent to Professor Mc-

Broom. Mr. Graves' introduction was an effort to bolster up a non-committal reply and give excuse for his refusal to let the people of the county know how he stands on public questions.

The only light on Eugene Graves' attitude on the temperance question is afforded in the statement of Hugh Hoyle, who was fined for Sunday selling, relieved of his license and then prosecuted on the charge of selling without a license. He was a client of Mr. Graves, and said he kept open his saloon on "advice of counsel."

William Jennings Bryan will have another coming out party this month.

While Bill Taft is wandering through Europe and Asia, following the flag, we observe that Charles W. Fairbanks limits his itinerary to that territory comprehended by constitutional suffrage.

To those whose literary palates will not respond to anything less spicy than a mixed metaphor, we commend the following from the News-Democrat: "The local Republican organ seems to be the FLOOD GATE through which most of the political filth passes and just now it is kept working overtime in its mad efforts to STEM THE TIDE of public sentiment." We cordially invite the public down after "20" to water a "flood gate work overtime to stem the tide." That ought to be worth seeing.

A CRITICAL MOMENT.

This is a critical period in the development of Paducah. Rent depends to a great extent on the rate of taxation and the taxation is high. Further public improvements are demanded. If a man, who is personally interested by reason of being a taxpayer, and a property owner, has the appointing of executive boards, which spend the money, and behind him a general council in sympathy with him, and by his side a city treasurer and city clerk acquainted with affairs and in sympathy with his policy, Paducah will receive a great impetus in the next few years.

If a politician, under obligations to a faction, which is fighting for existence against another political faction, gets in office, and to further his ambitions, parcels out city jobs among office hunters, the city's revenue will be wasted and Paducah will receive a setback at the critical moment, which will injure her commercially and industrially, and the working man will suffer most.

James P. Smith is a property owner, a taxpayer, an experienced business man, and unacquainted with politics. He has no political ambitions. He will not recognize party lines in his appointments, and will give Paducah a business administration.

Tom Harrison is the political creature of a party faction, with nothing to control him but a desire for an office.

Why does the News-Democrat say that General Manager Berry and Waddie Lang called on Mr. Bryant in regard to the statement of a "certain representative of the News-Democrat"? Why doesn't the paper acknowledge that Waddie Lang was the representative? Come, come, Waddie's a good fellow. So are Charlie Graham and Tom Harrison, and all of them—all good fellows.

Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, candidate for attorney general, is a leading light of the west Kentucky bar, a fine jurist and a judge of great reputation for learning and justice, and will make Kentucky a capital attorney general.

James P. Smith has not made any contracts for the groceries for the city departments nor for anything else in anticipation of his election. Neither has he promised any offices to anyone. We are waiting for the News-Democrat to publish a denial from Mr. Will Englert that anyone offered Englert & Bryant the city grocery contract in behalf of Tom Harrison. We are also waiting for it to publish a denial from Chief of Police Collins that he was offered the captaincy of police from the same source. The Sun has quoted both gentlemen in interviews.

Is it to be a non-partisan or factional partisan administration?

Are the city departments to be run and the taxes spent for the benefit of Paducah, or for the purpose of fixing the clutches of one particular faction on the Democratic party?

Are the offices to be filled with business men or politicians?

Do you want a mayor, who was induced to accept the office; or a mayor who devoted his term in the police coat to furthering his ambition to become mayor?

Do you want a man for mayor, who has to pay $10 a day taxes and, therefore, is interested in keeping down taxes, and owns real estate, and, therefore, is interested in the progress of Paducah? Or do you want a man who has no interest except to stay in this office until his term expires and then get another one?

Capt. Edwin Farley will be a tower of strength to the state ticket in The Purchase. He is one of Paducah's substantial citizens, one whom her people delight to honor.

Patrolman Hurley Peter. Patrolman Aaron Hurley is reported better today. Last night he passed a quiet night and today is stronger, and physicians entertain hope for him.

WADDIE LANG

ance, "Neither Mr. Harrison nor anyone claiming to be his representative offered this firm the city grocery business in return for our support of Mr. Harrison for mayor."

Why did you interview Mr. Bryant instead of Mr. Englert?

Why did you not quote Mr. Bryant's exact language in that interview?

Did you write the interview, as it appeared in the News-Democrat?

Was the statement in the News-Democrat correct in every particular?

Perry Melton, reporter for The Sun, said:

"When I called on Mr. Lang for a statement, Mr. Lang at first promptly declined to be interviewed but after I insisted that The Sun was rightfully due a statement from him on the matter, he said that he did call on Mr. Bryant and ask him regarding the report that Tom Harrison had offered him the grocery contract in return for the support of the firm in the election for mayor."

"Mr. Bryant said that the report was not true, that Tom Harrison had made any such offer," said Mr. Lang.

"Did you ask him if any other person supposed to be connected with the management of Harrison's campaign had made such an offer?" I asked.

"I asked him regarding the report that such an offer had been made," said Mr. Lang.

"Again and again the question was put with all the plainness possible and each time an evasive answer was made."

"I then handed Mr. Lang a list of typewritten questions, and in order that there could be no misunderstanding, that the matter could be put in its proper light and that he would be sure not to be misquoted, I asked him to write the answers himself, assuring Mr. Lang that it would be published just as he would write the answers. Mr. Lang said he was very busy and asked me to call again at 10 o'clock. The request was complied with and at 10 o'clock I went back and asked Mr. Lang if the answers were ready."

"I decline to be interviewed," said Mr. Lang. "I will return the questions."

"Mr. Lang retired behind his prescription case and was gone for some minutes. In the meantime Mr. John J. Berry, of the News-Democrat, went into the rear of the building. After a lengthy caucus Mr. Waddie Lang came out and returned the paper on which the questions were written, saying that he declined to answer any."

"Will you not answer the one question for me 'Did you ask Mr. Bryant if any person other than Tom Harrison had made him such an offer?'"

This brought out from the rear Mr. James Lang and Tom Harrison who in chorus, told Mr. Lang not to answer.

"Will you stick to the statement made early this morning that you asked Mr. Bryant if Tom Harrison made such an offer?" I asked.

"I make no such statement," was the final reply.

OF ISSUES OF CAMPAIGN.

"The growing tendency toward higher ideals in the government of municipal affairs has been recognized and sanctioned by the Republican party in this city, as shown by its adoption to yield mere partisan preferences and party adherence to its selection of candidates committed to measures confessedly best for the interest of the city. It has endeavored to obtain a strong conservative ticket—one that the people of Paducah as a whole will approve and support."

And an approval of such a policy by the people next November will stimulate faith and hope in the progress and future of Paducah. This ticket goes before the people free of party pledges and entanglements, free of political obligations and demands, born of the needs of the hour, with the inspiration of success and with the kindling flame of enthusiasm fanned by the growing confidence of the public."

"Yours respectfully,
"ARTHUR Y. MARTIN."

EARLE ASHLEY WALCOTT

"Come in and sit down," he said. The voice was alert and business like—the voice of a man accustomed to command. But I could find no trace of feeling in it, nothing that could tell me of the hatred or desperate purpose that would inspire such a tragedy as I had witnessed, or warn me of danger to come.

"Do you hear?" he said impatiently; "shut the door and sit down. Just spring that lock, will you? We might be interrupted."

I was not at all certain that I should not wish very earnestly that he might be interrupted in what Bret Harte would call the "subsequent proceedings." But I followed his directions.

Doddridge Knapp was not less impressive at close view than at long range. The strong face grew stronger when seen from the near distance. "My dear Wilton," he said, "I've come to a place where I've got to trust somebody, so I've come back to you." The voice was oily and persuasive, but the keen gray eyes shot out a glance from under the bushing eyebrows that thrilled me as a warning.

"It's very kind of you," I said, swallowing my astonishment with an effort.

"Well," said Knapp, "the way you handled that Ophir matter was perfectly satisfactory; but I'll tell you that it's on Mrs. Knapp's say-so, as much as on your own doing, that I selected you for this job."

"I'm much obliged to Mrs. Knapp," I said politely. "I was in deep waters. It was plainly unsafe to do anything but drift."

"Oh, you can settle that with her at your next call," he said good humoredly.

The faded nerves of surprise refused to respond further. If I had received a telegram informing me that the dispute over the presidency had been settled by shelving both Hayes and Tilden and giving the unanimous vote of the electors to me, I should have accepted it as a matter of course. I took my place unquestioningly as a valued acquaintance of Doddridge Knapp's and a particular friend of Mrs. Knapp's.

Yet it struck me as strange that the keen-eyed King of the Street had failed to discover that he was not talking to Henry Wilton, but to some one else who resembled him. There were enough differences in features and voice to distinguish us among intimate friends, though there were not enough to be seen by casual acquaintances. I had the key in the next sentence he spoke.

"I have decided that it is better this time to do our business face to face. I don't want to trust messengers on this affair, and even cipher notes are dangerous,—confoundedly dangerous."

Then we had not been close acquaintances.

"Oh, by the way, you have that other cipher yet, haven't you?" he asked.

"No,—burnt it," I said unblushingly.

"That's right," he said. "It was best not to take risks. Of course you understand that it won't do for us to be seen together."

"Certainly not," I assented.

"I have arranged for another office. Here's the address. Yours is Room 15. I have the key to 17, and 15 is vacant between with a 'To Let' sign on it. They open into each other. You understand?"

"Perfectly," I said.

"You will be there by nine o'clock for your orders. If you get none by twelve, there will be none for the day."

"If I can't be there, I'll let you know," I was off my guard for a moment, thinking of the possible demands of Henry's unknown employer.

"You will do nothing of the kind," said Doddridge Knapp shortly. His voice, so smooth and businesslike a moment before, changed suddenly to a growl. His heavy eyebrows came down, and from under them flashed a dangerous light. "You will be there when I tell you, young man, or you'll have to reckon with another sort of customer than the one you've been dealing with. This matter requires prompt and strict obedience to orders. One slip may ruin the whole plan."

"You can depend on me," I said with assumed confidence. "Am I to have any discretion?"

"None whatever."

I had thus far been able to get no hint of his purpose. If I had not known what I knew, I should have supposed that his mind was concentrated on the apparent object before him—to secure the zeal and fidelity of an employee in some important business operation.

"And what am I to do?" I asked.

"Be a capitalist," he said with an ironical smile. "Buy and sell what I tell you to buy and sell. Keep under cover, but not too much under cover. You can pick your own brokers. Better begin with Bockstein and Eppner, though. Your checks will be honored at the Nevada Bank. Oh, here's a cipher in case I want to write you. I suppose you'll want some ready money."

Doddridge Knapp was certainly a liberal provider, for he shoved a handful of twenty-dollar gold pieces across the desk in a way that made my eyes open.

"By the way," he continued, "I don't think I have your signature, have I?"

"No, sir," I replied with prompt confidence.

"Well, just write it on this slip then. I'll turn it into the bank for your identification. You can take the check-book with you."

"Anything more?"

"That's all," he replied with a nod of dismissal. "Maybe it's to-morrow—maybe it's next month."

And I walked out into Montgomery Street, bewildered among the conflicting mysteries in which I had been entangled.

(To be continued in next issue.)

WHERE IS HITCHCOCK?
BELLE MCKENZIE BACK.

New York, Nov. 2.—Belle McKenzie, the girl with whom Raymond Hitchcock, the missing comedian, was alleged to have sailed to Europe, was found here today. She says every charge of wrongdoing alleged against Hitchcock and herself is untrue. She says she met him and sought a position as chorus girl, but there was nothing between Hitchcock and herself. The comedian is not found yet. Friends believe he is temporarily insane under the strain.

Gladys Gets Her Millions.

New York, Nov. 2.—Gladys Moore Vanderbilt, youngest child of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, who attained her majority on August 27, was today put into possession of more than $12,000,000 through legal proceedings in the supreme court. Miss Vanderbilt was not present in court when her mother, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, was discharged as her guardian. The proceedings were purely formal and occupied but a moment of the court's time.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the least depressive, they are tonic, and for the tired-down, worn-out system, it is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially

AMERICAN GENTLEMAN IS GOING AWAY.

On the very last day of his visit here, The American Gentleman fell victim to the charm of a Paducah girl and smiled the fateful smile which made Miss Rose Browder the possessor of a pair of American Lady Shoes. Besides the distinction of wearing American Lady shoes, Miss Browder has another one—that of making the American Gentleman smile for, though he has been in every large city of the United States, seldom have his classic features lost their stern dignity.

The Hamilton, Brown Shoe company have in "George Washington," as he is familiarly called, a gem of advertising value—nothing better has ever been seen in Paducah. The American Gentleman is certainly a distinguished figure in his colonial garb; the resemblance to "The Father of Our Country" is startling. His grave features and statuesque pose in the midst of our busy everyday street scenes strike one with the force of an apparition and invariably attract large crowds. One day, in Chicago, while walking down State street, the crowd became so dense that traffic was blocked in this, the busiest thoroughfare in the United States and it became necessary to call out the police to clear the street.

The American Gentleman was so well pleased with Paducah and her people that he intends to return in the spring. Perhaps his disposition will be livelier at that time and he will smile more readily; who knows?

Notice.
Any persons placing advertising matter or candidates' cards on any poles or sidewalks of the city will be warned. By order of the board of works. A. S. ELLIOTT, Street Inspector.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

D. A. R. Chapter.

Paducah chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met on Friday afternoon with the regent, Mrs. E. G. Boone, 308 South Sixth street. It was an unusually pleasant meeting and largely attended for the inclement afternoon. It was "Quaker Day" and the program was an interesting one. Mrs. Sallie Morrow gave an attractive account of "George Fox, the Founder." Mrs. David G. Murrell's interesting paper on "The Quaker Colony" was read by Mrs. Roy McKinney in Mrs. Murrell's absence from the city. Mrs. George C. Thompson gave very agreeably a reading on "The Quaker Bride." Miss Caroline Ham sang very delightfully. Five new members were received into the chapter at the meeting, making 52 in all: Mrs. Louise Maxwell, Miss Mildred Terrell and Miss Caroline Ham, Mrs. G. H. Warneken and Mrs. Anne Berryman, of Clarksville, are the out-of-town members. Mrs. Boone and Mrs. M. B. Nash reported entertainingly the recent state D. A. R. conference at Louisville, at which both were present. It was decided at the business session to have a called meeting the first of next week for the purpose of systematizing the canvass for "D. A. R. Fountain Day," on November 11. Mrs. Roy McKinney, Mrs. George C. Thompson and Mrs. George B. Hart were appointed the committee for November to visit the Rowlandtown school, of which the chapter has assumed charge, and assist in organizing a Mothers' club. A delicious luncheon was served during the afternoon. The house was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums, smilax and ferns. Two visitors were present: Mrs. Warwick M. Cowgill, of Lincoln, Neb., a former member, and Miss Boyd, of Eddyville, an out-of-town member.

PET SQUIRREL BIT HER HAND AND THEN IT DIED.

Mrs. Daniel Hall, of Elizabeth street, was bitten twice on the hand today by a pet squirrel, and the fact that the animal died almost immediately after it let go its hold gives rise to the fear that it may have been sick and probably had rabies. Mrs. Hall was handling the squirrel as had been her custom, when it suddenly seized her thumb and bit it severely. Mrs. Hall fainted from fright, but recovering went to Farley's drug store, where the injury was treated. The squirrel was old, but had never offered to bite any one before.

Did He Kiss Her.

A few nights ago a Denver University boy took his best girl, a young woman who lives out on the east side, to a theatre. During the evening she complained of not feeling well and they left before the show was over. He took her home and when they said good night the girl was pretty sick. Next day it turned out that she had diphtheria. Then the young man began to wonder if he was booked for a siege of the disease too. He called on a physician he knew to ask about it.

The physician heard the young man's tale. "Well," said he, at the conclusion of it, "I think your chances to catch the disease depend on how you said good night to the young lady."

The young man was quiet for a moment. Then he said: "Doctor, I'm much obliged. If that's the case I'm not in danger."

The young man went out. A minute later he stuck his head in the door. "Say, Doc," he said, "diphtheria don't go very hard with strong healthy young men, does it?"—Denver Post.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

extended to the other pink "sun-bonnet" dolls at the four corners of the table. At each end of the table was a four pronged candelabrum with pink candles. Pink and white brick cream was served. The cakes and minuts carried out the same colors. Pretty pink crepe-paper sun-bonnets were tied on each girl and high pink and white striped crepe paper caps were put on each boy before going to the dining room, which added to the picturesque beauty of the scene.

After the refreshments were served a Hallow E'en frolic was in order. The big back hall opening out of the dining room was made a veritable enchanted woodland. Autumn leaves and vines were used with charming effect. Jack o'lanterns gave a dim light. In one corner was a picturesque gypsy tent where Miss Hannah Corbett presided and made a beautiful "gypsy maid." "Bobbing apples," popcorn and nuts were some of the merry Hallow E'en diversions and the children romped to their heart's content.

The little guests were: Francis Eaton, Camille Wright, Flo Armstrong, Katherine Foster, Ethel Livingston, Elsie Eunice Voris, Jennie Rivers, Jennie Rasch, Elizabeth Smith, Elizabeth Graham, Virginia Hart, Willie Eleanor Gardner, Barbara Nell Paxton, Elizabeth Hill, Emma Gleaves, Elizabeth Rye, Lena Utterback, Ama Webb Phillips, Anita Billings, Lougenia Billings, Lucille Reed, Myra Virginia Gilbert, Miriam Weille, Sue Wheeler Frye, Neil Craig, Charles Eaton, Henry Bradley, Henry Thompson, Charles Jennings, John Little, Erastus Stanley, Hazzard Gardner, Booth Allison, Robert Woolfolk, Richard Waiters.

Phantom Barn Dance.

A pretty spectacular effect was the barn dance given by Miss Helen Van Meter on Thursday evening in celebration of Hallow E'en. A large hall over Mr. C. L. Van Meter's transfer stable was utilized for the occasion. Jack o'lanterns hung from the rafters and about the room gave a weird light. The dancers were in sheets and pillow cases and effectively disguised. Doughnuts and cider were served during the evening. The chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Van Meter, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marble, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Clovions.

Those dancing were: Misses Corrine Winstead, Ellen Boswell, Grace Hill, Elizabeth Boswell, Helen Hill, Blanche Hill, Julia Dabney, Mary B. Jennings, Sallie Smith, Amy Dreyfuss, Lucille Well, Cora Lee Wortham, Hugo, I. T.; Ethel Sights, Margaret Carnegie, Martha Cope, Gladys Coblurn, Sarah Corbett, Elizabeth Terrell, Mary Wheeler, Jean Morris, Katherine Donovan, Nella Hatfield, Henry Alcott, Elsie Hodge, Elizabeth Seebree, Rosebud Hobson, Elizabeth Kirkland, Alma Kopf, Lucia Powell, Lucille Harth, Erma Yeiser, Mamie Bauer, Mildred Orme, Grace McGlathery, Azile Reeves, Miss Hale, of Dyersburg, Tenn.; Messrs. Kalopsophic Club.

The Kalopsophic club held its regular weekly meeting on Friday morning at the Woman's club house. "Persian Wars" were discussed by Miss Annie May Yeiser. "The Spartan Period" was reviewed by Mrs. Vernon Blythe. Miss Clara Park presented "Rise and Culmination of Theban Power." Miss Belle Cave gave "Current Events."

Social Occasion.

Mrs. Charles E. Richardson, 1643 Broadway, entertained the Grace Church Guild on Wednesday afternoon at her home. It was a pretty social occasion. The house was attractively decorated in pink and white chrysanthemums and a delightful course-luncheon was served.

Beautiful Wedding and Reception.

A brilliant social event of the week was the marriage of Miss Nell Holland and Mr. Paul W. Province on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boone on South Sixth street, and the reception given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Boone after the ceremony.

The house throughout was most artistically decorated. The reception hall where the ceremony was performed was in a scheme of green; the library in yellow; the dining room was in green and white and the hall where the punch was served, in pink. Southern smilax, ferns and chrysanthemums were used in the decorations.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. B. Moore. The only attendants the ribbon bearers: Misses Adine Corbett and Mary Terry Burnett and the ring bearer little Susan Porter Sleeth. The bride was gown in white lace over chiffon over silk.

The two ribbon girls, of striking brunette type, wore pretty lingerie frocks unrelieved by any touch of

The Cheapest Stove to Use Because It Saves All Wasted With Other Stoves For Hard Coal, Soft Coal or Lignite

The waste of gas in burning hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of an ordinary base burner, when the oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas. Cole's Hot Blast stove burns this gas in hard coal which, in ordinary stoves, escapes, on account of their leaky construction, causing great waste and endangering health and life when it escapes into the rooms.

In the ordinary magazine hard coal stove, three-fourths of the coal is partially consumed in the magazine, where it gives off no heat, as it is not in contact with the radiating surface. The one-fourth of the coal in the fire pot must be kept at a white heat combustion to throw the heat into the rooms, thus causing great waste.

Cole's Original Hot Blast

The combustion chamber and the magazine are combined in this stove and the Combustion is Perfect. The stove is filled to the top of the inside cast iron lining. This large body of hard coal is burned under perfect control by means of the absolutely air-tight construction of the stove giving perfect control over the drafts. The coal is kept at a slow, economical cherry red combustion and as the heat is in direct contact with every square inch of the sensitive steel radiating surface, all the heat is radiated into the room where it is wanted and not blanketed in and sent up the chimney. Hard coal at Cherry Red Combustion burns 48 hours, while at white heat it is consumed in from 2 to 5 hours.

Sold Under a Positive Guarantee

We Guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same heating surface.

Requires attention only morning and night with hard coal. Warm rooms day and night. No escaping gases to endanger life. The heat wasted up the chimney, with other stoves is saved.

Burns Any Fuel—Saves Half

Cole's Hot Blast is not only a perfect hard coal stove, but is generally recognized as the most economical and cleanest soft coal stove made. Soft coal is half gas and a $3.00 ton of soft coal or a $2.00 ton of slack is made to do the work of $9.00 worth of hard coal, as the gas half is utilized as a heat producer. It burns soft coal, hard coal or wood without any change of fixtures.

Scientific Construction

Cole's Original Hot Blast has an absolutely air-tight and gas tight construction throughout, by reason of its numerous patented improvements. The patented Hot Blast draft saves the gas. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot be made to leak air by action of the fiercest heat. The patented cover and hinge on the ash door cannot warp and the door closes air-tight by its own weight. The heavy fire box protects the joints, where other stoves burn out first. The guaranteed smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, soot or dust from escaping into the room when fuel is put into the stove. Perfect cleanliness, therefore, from soft coal.

CAUTION. Like all original improvements, Cole's Original Hot Blast has many imitations. They are failures, because they do not have the above patented features. The words "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" will be found on the feed door of every Cole's Hot Blast. None genuine without it.

NEW RICHMOND IN FIELD.

Senator Scott Mentions Secretary Root as Presidential Candidate.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Presidential gossip was set going anew today by Senator Scott, of West Virginia, who has just returned from Mexico, and who, after telling the president about Secretary Root's splendid services and reception there, said on leaving the white house:

"If Secretary Root were to be presented by his own state he would be a formidable candidate for the Republican nomination for president."

Senator Scott said he hoped the people of his state would not commit themselves, but would wait; that the president stood first there, but if he was not a candidate then it would be best to wait for months.

"Secretary Root is a great man—one of the greatest this country has produced," he added.

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW IS AMENDED

Illinois Senate Does Something To Oglesby Bill

Governor Deneen Protests but to No Effect So Far—Cannon Wanted. One for Himself.

POLITICIANS WANTED SOME.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—The esteemed senate proved again this evening that it knows how to handle a red hot poker without getting burned. It manipulated the Oglesby direct primary bill in a manner highly satisfactory to all the opponents of the measure, and there are no blisters to show where any senator was singed.

This bill, now on third reading and scheduled for a final vote in the morning, has a good many things in it which would enable Mr. Oglesby to recognize it. None of the essentials of direct plurality nominations have been altered. To have changed them would have been to act in a coarse fashion, and coarseness never is a part of senate politics.

With extreme delicacy the senate has fixed the measure so as to make it practically impossible for the house to concur in the amendments. It has been made practically certain that a conference committee of the two houses will be required, and out of the conference committee almost any sort of a bill may come.

Campbell Restores System.

Postmaster Daniel A. Campbell, of Chicago, took the senate in hand this morning and under the direction of the former leader the agitated members of the upper house found themselves regaining confidence. Discipline was restored to the ranks and order came out of confusion.

Since Mr. Campbell's appointment as postmaster and his consequent retirement from active public life as a senator, the organization in the upper branch has suffered a material falling off in effectiveness, which at no time had been more conspicuous than during the recent discussions of primary legislation.

With the captain gone the corporation could not keep the ranks in order and skirmishes were being lost because of the lack of discipline. Mr. Campbell came back today and so also did order, confidence, system and discipline, and as a result of their coming back the senate organization remained in possession of the field tonight.

Changes in Oglesby Bill.

The following changes were made in the Oglesby measure:

Eliminating national electors and national convention delegates and alternates from the operation of the measure.

Eliminating all party organization machinery from the operation of the bill.

Striking out the provisions for the election of party committees.

Eliminating the restriction which would have prevented a voter changing his politics as often as he might see fit for purposes of primary elections.

Eliminating the provision which would have allowed the voters to determine how many candidates for the legislature should be nominated by their party and giving this power to the senatorial committees.

Protest by Gov. Deneen.

It was a case of thimble rigging reduced to a science and already has brought out one formal but emphatic protest, this coming from Gov. Deneen. He issued a statement dealing with the amendment eliminating party machinery from the operation of the law, saying:

"I think this amendment is a mistake. The purpose of a primary election bill is twofold—first, to give the right to members of the party directly to determine who shall be its nominees, and, second, to enable the members of the party to control the party machinery.

"The original bill provides for the selection of party committees by direct vote of the members of the party in the same way as for nomination of candidates. This gives a full and fair opportunity to the members of the party to control its machinery. I fail to see any valid objection to this. This is a great advantage to the party, because it makes the party machinery responsive to its sentiments and subservient to its wishes; makes it truly representative of the party.

"The amendment prevents the members of the party from having control. Should this amendment be incorporated in the bill there will be no law providing for the selection of committees of the several parties, nor for the selection of delegates to state and national conventions. The selection in many places will degenerate into 'soap box' primaries and mob rule. It will restore the credentials committee which had fallen into such disrepute and will impair the confidence of the party in its managing committees. It is a distinct backward step.

"I hope that the bill when it becomes a law will not be marred by this amendment."

the first amendment to aid his presidential campaign, and he got it.

The party bosses wanted the second amendment to keep outsiders from "butting in" on one matter of organization which do not concern them, and they got it.

FRIENDS UPHOLD THE ACCUSED MAN

Kansas Stirred Over Alleged Murder of Young Girl

Case Remained Mystery for Nearly Two Weeks, and Developments Are Awaited.

HE PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE

Tola, Kas., Nov. 2.—From center to circumference Allen county continues stirred over the mystery attending the alleged murder of Miss May Sapp, for which Samuel F. Whitlow, a business man of prominence and high standing, has been arrested and must stand trial. Opinion is divided on the question of the guilt or innocence of the accused man, and further developments in the strange case are eagerly awaited by the people. Whitlow continues to declare his innocence and his family and many friends are standing by him.

It is more than four weeks since the alleged murder occurred. Miss May Sapp, the victim, was the 20-year-old daughter of J. N. Sapp, a prominent farmer of Moran, a village on the eastern edge of this county. On the night of September 27 the girl was found dead in the yard of her father's home. Her throat was slashed, presumably with a razor that was found close by. Her mother had reached her side in response to the girl's screams but she died without speaking. The mother was unable to say positively whether her daughter had screamed "Mother" or "Murder."

For nearly two weeks the case remained a mystery. Then the community was startled by the arrest of Samuel F. Whitlow in connection with the case. Whitlow, a grain and feed merchant, is 40 years old and has a wife and three children. Until involved in the present case he had always borne a good reputation.

Upon his arrest Whitlow made a remarkable confession, the substance of which was that Miss Sapp had committed suicide because of her unrequited love for him. He formerly was a school teacher and Miss Sapp was one of his pupils. They had been friends for several years. He declared that he and the girl had never been intimate. He said that the girl had become infatuated with him and had repeatedly urged him to leave his family and run away with her. He said that on the night of the tragedy he met her at the rear of her father's house and told her that their relations must cease, whereupon she drew a razor across her throat.

One of the remarkable features of the case was a diary which Whitlow produced and in which he purported to have set forth from day to day the annoyances to which Miss Sapp had subjected him because he did not return her love. He declared that the girl was in the habit of coming to his house at night and leaving locks of her hair on the door-knob and disturbing things in the yard in order that he would know that she had been there. In his diary he set forth his constant fear that his family or the family of the girl might learn of her mad infatuation.

The coroner's jury, however, did not accept Whitlow's tale as wholly true and the result of their investigation was that he was held on the charge of murder. The parents of the dead girl testified that they did not believe their daughter had committed suicide and so far as they knew did not possess the razor with which the deed was committed. The suspicion against Whitlow was further strengthened by the testimony of his wife that she knew he had gone to the Sapp home on the night of the killing and that on the following morning she had found blood stains on her husband's jacket.

RAILROAD NOTES

Billy Fauntleroy, the negro who was picked up on the Illinois Central incline at the foot of Campbell street yesterday morning by Patrolmen Howell and Wallace with his foot cut off, is still alive but shows little sign of improvement. Yesterday an operation was performed, but Fauntleroy is still unconscious.

There is abundance of work in the Paducah wood working department and in the planing mill everything is bustle and hurry. Many camp cars are to be built and there is much repair work of car equipment.

Mr. Billy Morgan, the veteran machinist of Paducah Illinois Central shops, yesterday celebrated his employment anniversary. He had been with the road yesterday 24 years, and received congratulations generally from his friends. He is one of the most popular Odd Fellows in the city, having held important offices in the lodge for years. Always good natured, and seeing only the bright side of life, he makes friends by the score, and not a more trustworthy employee has the road in Paducah shops. Mr. Morgan did not retire from work to celebrate, but kept pegging away with hammer and chisel working at his bench in the wheel department.

Electric Storm Last Night.

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by a heavy rain, and in some places hail, visited this city and section last night between 10:30 and 12 o'clock. Little damage is reported, however.

Lights went out about 11 o'clock due to an overcharge of electricity on wires, and also the burning out of two transformers. One was at the Illinois Central railroad shops and a second at Twelfth and Harrison streets. Telephone and telegraph companies report little damage.

BUFFALO POLICE

HEADQUARTERS HAS FIRE IN WHICH EIGHT ARE HURT.

Falling Roof Injures Firemen and Records Are All Burned With Relics.

Buffalo, Nov. 2.—Police records, the rogues gallery and many important documents, including the original copy of Czolgosz's confession of the assassination of President McKinley, were destroyed by fire which wrecked police headquarters. The fire was of incendiary origin. Two companies of firemen were caught in the collapse of the roof and cupola and eight men were seriously injured. None will die.

At 2:30 this afternoon Police Commissioner Zeller picked up a blazing newspaper in the hall way. Half an hour later a police messenger found a blazing window brush in the store room. He had reached the commissioner's room with the smoldering brush when the alarm of fire was given from the street and flames were shooting from the cupola over the main entrance and from the windows on the fourth floor. The prisoners were handcuffed together and marched to jail. The firemen apparently had the flames under control and were working on the third floor when the cupola toppled over and crashed through the roof and top floor.

Was Mail Wagon Damaged?

Government operators will investigate an alleged attack made on a United States mail wagon in Paducah on Halloween night. Few facts can be secured relative to the matter, but enough was gleaned to give foundation to the story. The Palmer Transfer company, which has the mail contract, denies that an attack was made on the mail wagon as far as has been reported to its office. It is stated that on Halloween night the horse drawing the night mail wagon ran away from the station, and was bruised, but that the wagon suffered no damage.
